LIST 19 $768,970.

The body of John Mahoney, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mahoney, of Versailles, was found in the canal of the Totokett company's mill at Occum about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Mahoney was seen about the company's barn about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening and disanceared soon after. When he did not return to his home Tuesday night a search for him was started, without result. Wednesday it was thought probable that he was in the canal, as it runs right in the rear of the barn where he was last seen.

Kimball, of Norwich, was called, and after viewing the body of the young man gave Undertaker Grant of Taltiville permission to remove the remains to his rooms. The medical examiner's verdict was accidental drowning.

Mr. Mahoney was 28 years of age and a native of Versailles, where he had always resided with his parents. He was employed as a laborer and was unmarried. Besides his parents, Mr. Mahoney leaves one sister, Mrs. Commit the rear of the barn where he was last seen.

After dragging for some time with-out avail, the water was drawn off, re-vealing the body lying directly in back of the barn. The medical examiner, Dr. Rush W.

IN POLISHERS' STRIKE International Vice President Investigated Report That Organization Had Been Formed Here.

TO BE NO "SLUGGING"

John J. Flynn, international vice president of the Metal Polishers' union of North America, came to Norwich Wednesday to investigate a report that had been circulated around that the local polishers, who for the past eight weeks have been out on strike, had formed an organization for "slugging." A special meeting of the polishers was called for Wednesday evening which was held in Carpenter's hall on Main street, The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock, with every one of the strikers present. Mr. Flynn stated why he had called the meeting and asked the men if the report was true. Every man present said that he did not intend to bring any violence into the strike and said he knew of no such movement being started by the others.

strike and said he knew of no such movement being started by the others. Mr. Flynn was satisfied that the report was an erroneous one that had been started in unreliable sources.

The polishers are entering into the eighth week of their strike for an increase in wilses, and according to present indications there seems to be no possibility of a settlement. The striking polishers number 19 in all, 10 of them being employes of the Crescent Arms company and the remaining 9 employes of the Norwich Nickle and Brass company. The men want a wage scale of $3.50 per day. At present, according to the statement of the polishers, the employes of one concern receive $2.50 a day while the other company pays $2.75 per day.

MILKMEN STILL CONFUSED ABOUT MARKS ON BOTTLES.

Capacity Must Be Shown, But Not the Name of Dealer, Says President Davis.

Milkmen continue to be confused about the new ruling about milk bottles, as is indicated by the questions that are constantly coming to State President G. Warren Davis of the Connecticut Dairymen's association. Many seem to have the idea that they must have bottles with their own names blown or stamped in them, or attached to them somehow. But this is not the requirement of the sate dairy com-mission, as President Davis understands it.

All that is required is to have the words "I quart" or "Iqt." or pint, as the case may be, blown or stamped in ed to the bottle or printed on the cap, the bottle, or printed on a label attached to the bottle or printed on the cap. If any of these things are done, President Davis understands that the law will be compiled with.
